

Dance club with Let's Dance at AYJS

Jennifer Smith RAD RTS

I am a professionally trained dancer; I started my training at Let's Dance at the tender age of five years old. I then furthered my training at Studios La Pointe, gaining teaching qualifications in Ballet, tap and modern ISTD. While also training professionally in Musical Theatre. On graduation I went on to perform in different shows in England and abroad. More recently I came back to teach at Let's Dance, which is a family run dance school. Established in 1991, based in Bishopthorpe. This made me want to further my training. For the past two years I've been training with the Royal Academy of Dance, which I'm now qualified Royal Academy of Dance Ballet teacher in association with The Royal Ballet. Which took me to London for my graduation where I received my qualification from Dame Darcey Bussell.

I am delighted to be doing dance club at AYJS. Each class will start with an appropriate warm up then work on good technique. The students will learn different dance styles each week, from the core dance styles including ballet and jazz through to Bollywood and flamenco. The students will get a chance to pick their favourite, then they will work towards a final performance.
